INSTRUCTIONS for “MD transport_questions.xls”

The information requested is to be provided on an electronic spreadsheet: “MD transport_questions.xls”. This spreadsheet includes a few rows of example entries. Respondents should remove the example information before entering their own information. The number of spreadsheet rows which each ILEC and CLEC will be required to provide data on depends upon the number of transport routes for which each company has provisioned facilities. The electronic spreadsheets are set up in a manner that will allow the responses to be compiled, and queried in an efficient manner. For any additional questions concerning the spreadsheets or the information requested, contact Jason Cross at (410) 767-8055 or via e-mail at jcross@psc.state.md.us.

After completing the spreadsheets, please save them electronically in Microsoft Excel 97 with your company name replacing the word “question” in the title of the spreadsheet. For example “MD transport_” should precede your company name (e.g., MD transport_COMPANY NAME.xls”). File along with hard copy on 3.5 diskettes or compact disk by December 15, 2003. Please refer to the Commission Letter for detailed filing information.

A transport route between two points may pass through two or more intermediate wire centers or switches. Note: complete spreadsheet rows once for transport route pair (e.g., for a transport route between Laurel and Bethesda, complete spreadsheet rows for either CITYMDXX to CITYMDZZ or for CITYMDZZ to CITYMDXX, but not for both).

NOTICE REGARDING IMPLEMENTATION ISSUES OF THE FEDERAL COMMUNICATION COMMISSION'S TRIENNIAL REVIEW ORDER

To All Maryland Telecommunications Carriers:

On August 21, 2003, the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") released its Triennial Review Order,¹ in which it adopted new network unbundling requirements and rules establishing a new standard for determining the existence of impairment under section 251(d)(2) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996². The Triennial Review Order was published in the Federal Register on September 2, 2003 (Vol. 68, No. 169, 52276-52306) and becomes effective on October 2, 2003.

As part of its impairment analysis of specific unbundling requirements, the FCC considered whether impairment varied geographically throughout the country. In those instances where geographic distinctions did not exist, the FCC found that national unbundling rule(s) would be appropriate. However, where the FCC found that geographic differences might affect its implementation of an unbundling requirement in different areas of the country, the FCC indicated that it would delegate its authority under section 251(d)(2) to state commissions. Pursuant to its delegation, the state commissions are required to undertake analyses set forth in the Triennial Review Order pertaining to an ILEC's unbundling obligations for certain elements in particular geographic markets, thereby ensuring that the FCC's unbundling rules are implemented on the most accurate level possible. The delegated authority is limited with respect to the specific areas and network elements identified in the Triennial Review Order.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMM.
OF MARYLAND

¹ In the Matters of the Review of the Section 251 Unbundling Obligations of Incumbent Local Exchange Carriers; Implementation of the Local Competition Provisions of the Telecommunications Act of 1996; Deployment of Wireline Services Offering Advanced Telecommunications Capability, Report and Order on Remand and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, CC Docket Nos. 01-338, 96-98, and 98-147, FCC 03-36, rel. Aug. 21, 2003. ("Triennial Review Order").

² 42 U.S.C. 251(d)(2).

The FCC has delegated authority to conduct impairment analyses with respect to various unbundling requirements for both the Enterprise Market and Mass Market. In the Triennial Review Order, the FCC makes a national finding that competitive local exchange carriers ("CLECs") are not impaired without access to unbundled local circuit switching when serving DS1 and above enterprise customers. State commissions may rebut this presumption on a geographically specific basis by petitioning the FCC within 90 days of the Triennial Review Order's effective date based upon a granular review of specifically enumerated operational and economic criteria. Additionally, the FCC has established a second timeframe concluding nine months from the effective date of the Triennial Review Order, in which time state commission are required to either make factual findings or petition the FCC to rebut an impairment finding.

With respect to the Enterprise Market the FCC has delegated to state commissions the authority to make findings of fact and identify on a more granular scale where carriers are not impaired without access to an ILEC's unbundled high-capacity loops and dark fiber loops; or unbundled transport at a specific capacity, i.e., DS1, DS3, and dark fiber transport. State commissions are required to issue their finding pertaining to Enterprise Market loops and transport within nine months of the Triennial Review Order's effective date. With respect to the Mass Market, the FCC has found that on a national level CLECs are impaired without access to unbundled local circuit switching when serving mass market customers. State commission may rebut this finding on a geographically specific basis by petitioning the FCC within nine months of the Triennial Review Order's effective date based upon a granular review of specifically enumerated operational and economic criteria. Furthermore, within nine months of the Triennial Review Order's effective date state commissions are requested to approve and implement a batch cut migration process or, in the alternative, to issue detailed findings that a batch cut process is unnecessary in a particular market because the ILEC's hot cut processes do not give rise to impairment in that market.

In order to provide sufficient time for the Commission to make the necessary findings and determinations as whether it should take any action with respect to the rebuttable impairment findings of the FCC, the Commission establishes timeframes by which carriers wishing to contest the FCC's rebuttable impairment findings may file a petition with the Commission. Therefore, the Commission directs any carrier wishing to challenge any of the FCC's rebuttable findings of impairment to file a formal petition with the Commission on or before the following dates:

Petitions challenging the FCC's
Enterprise Market Switching -
Impairment finding

October 17, 2003³

³ In the event a petition in this matter is filed and hearings are necessary, the Commission has reserved the dates of November 24, 25 and 26, 2003 for those hearings. All interested persons are directed to do the same in the event a proceeding is docketed.

Petitions challenging the FCC's
Enterprise Market Loops; Enterprise
Market Transport, or Mass Market
Switching impairment findings

October 31, 2003⁴

Each petition filed with the Commission shall include: the direct testimony of the filing party; identify the specific market to which the challenge(s) applies; and contain comprehensive and empirical evidence sufficient to support its allegation(s) that the FCC's finding(s) should be rebutted. Upon receipt of a petition and associated documentation, the Commission shall docket a proceeding immediately, and the discovery process shall commence. Furthermore, the Commission directs that responses to discovery shall be made within five (5) business days of the discovery request.

If a petition challenging the FCC's Enterprise Market switching impairment finding is received by the Commission on October 17, 2003, the Commission shall convene a pre-hearing conference on that matter on Monday, October 20, 2003 at 10:00 a.m. Petitions for intervention shall be filed by October 20, 2003. Likewise, if the Commission receives a petition challenging any of the nine-month impairment issues within the timeframe indicted, the Commission shall convene a pre-hearing conference on Wednesday, November 5, 2003 at 10:30 a.m. Petitions for intervention in this matter shall be filed with the Commission by November 4, 2003. All pre-hearing conferences shall be held in the Commission's 16th Floor Hearing Room in the William Donald Schaefer Tower, 6 St. Paul Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202.

All filings made in accordance with this Notice should be addressed to the attention of Felecia L. Greer, Executive Secretary, Public Service Commission of Maryland, William Donald Schaefer Tower, 6 St. Paul Street, 16th Floor, Baltimore, Maryland 21202. Each filing should consist of an original and 14 copies and include an electronic version of the filing.

If no party challenges the FCC's findings, the Commission may determine that no further action is necessary, and that there is no need to pursue challenges of the FCC's impairment findings.

By Direction of the Commission,

Felecia L. Greer
Executive Secretary

FLG:nrm

⁴ In the event a petition pertaining to any of the nine-month issues is filed and hearings are necessary, the Commission has reserved the dates of March 22 through 26, 2004. All interested parties are directed to reserve these dates accordingly.
